Your World, Our World: Resilient Environment and Sustainable Resource Management for All

Digital Transformation, Machine Learning, Automation , and Artificial Intelligence (AI): The Next industrial Revolution

Abstract: Digital Transformation, Machine Learning, Automation, and artificial intelligence (AI) has overtaken the dialog in the media, government, enterprises, and academia. This dialog has been over sensationalized on both its value , safety, and timing. These are tools that will change the way we all work and the nature of that work. However , they are only tools and we as geospatial professionals are backbone of these tools and mechanism to realize the metaverse.
