

The Incredible 8000 Kilometer Odyssey of a Survey Marker

John Hohol (USA) and Kengo Okada (Japan)

Key words: History; Hydrography; Young surveyor;

SUMMARY

The incredible story of the odyssey of a survey marker, uprooted by a typhoon in Japan, traveling seven months and 8000 km across the Pacific Ocean ending up alongside a fishing dock at Orcas Island in the San Juan Islands in Washington State, USA.